MATERIALS

Wide Plank Wood Tops: Wide plank wood counter tops are a wonderful natural material to have in your kitchen. Wood is warmer than stone and great to the touch. Wood tops will be sealed when we deliver the islands, but they will require somewhat regular care especially in the beginning. If you want something that is completely maintenance free this is not the top for you.

Colonial White Granite: This is a beautiful and affordable granite that is resistant to heat, scratching and stains. Granite is a natural stone and an incredibly durable material that requires very little maintenance. It has always been a go to material for serious cooks and bakers.

Quartz: Quartz is a man-made material and the most durable surface you can get. If you're looking for a bombproof kitchen this is the material for you! The quartz we have selected mimics Carrera marble. While it isn't an exact match it will be pretty close and you won't have to worry about this staining like you would a natural marble product.

White Pearl and Taj Mahal Quartzite: Quartzite is a natural stone that has the look and feel of marble combined with the durability of granite. In other words you get the incredible beauty without the hassle and maintenance of a true marble. This material is easy to clean and extremely versatile. There is nothing that comes close to the combined beauty and durability of Quartzite.
